

FROM POINTS AROUND.

(REPORTED SPECIALLY FOR THE STAR.)

DAYTON, KY.—A social is to be given this evening at the residence of Rev. Mr. Spillman by the Ladies' Mite Society of the Baptist Church.

Weather permitting, the School Board will take some preliminary steps Wednesday evening toward the selection of teachers, etc.

Mr. Dancy having removed from Dayton yesterday tendered his resignation as a member of the Vestry of St. John's Church. The resignation was accepted and a resolution unanimously adopted expressing the regrets of his fellow-members at his removal from our midst, and their high appreciation of his active services since the organization of the congregation at this place. Mr. T. S. Noble was selected as his successor.

CALIFORNIA, O.—Mr. S. L. Yountee, one of the proprietors of the stove foundry, has returned from the West, and reports the small grain crops in Kansas and Missouri seriously damaged by the late rains.

The protracted wet weather is bringing its legitimate fruit—sickness. There is more sickness in the village of present than there has been for some time. Aaron Hopper, of Anderson township, is a prominent candidate for County Commissioner. He is a thrifty farmer, has excellent business qualifications, and is supported by the best men in the county.

LEXINGTON, KY.—A something—whether it be a spirit, ghost or animated being we know not—has been creating quite a stir among the quiet inhabitants living on the Russell road, some ten miles from this city. Last night a party of young gentlemen from this city, Messrs. A. Harrison, Ezekiel Kelly, Samuel Kelly, and two Randall brothers, sallied forth to see that ghost or prove that it was all a hoax. They arrived on the ground where the supposed something had been seen, and after remaining some time concluded that they had been fooled. But just as they were leaving a white object was seen to appear along a fence, and taking a straight walk of some fifty yards to a tree, it disappeared, nothing more being seen of it.

Next Wednesday evening a portion of the members of the Psycho-Philosophical Society will visit the ghost and find out what he wants.

General Howe is in the city paying county claims.

The present will be a stirring week in political circles in this city. It is probable there will be four candidates for Representative. This will afford the blood-suckers an opportunity of satisfying themselves.

Officers Garrett and Dillon appeared on Saturday in their new uniforms. The latter officer resembles Brian Born, the ancient Irish chief.

Messrs. A. W. Farrer and John M. Shepherd are running for Representative on their own hook. They will divide the Democratic vote and make the way easy for Stoll, who is backed up by the Republicans.

The weeds in the Court-house yard are growing very fast. If the heavy rains continue they will soon be tall and thick enough to hide the old Court-house.

The twenty-five cent dog store is not paying well. It is now over two months since the store was opened and only 250 dogs have been bought and one sold. A larger price must be offered or poisoning resorted to in order to put an end to the dangerous animals.

Gen. Harrison's candidate for Governor, spoke at the Court-house on Friday evening. He was interrupted several times by persons whose conduct was styled "obnoxious to decorum." Major Thomas requests us to state that he would have arrested the disturbers had he been there, no matter who they were.

HAMILTON.—A second military company is about to be organized, composed of veterans.

The old North Hamilton woolen mill site has lately been purchased by Mr. Wm. Kirk and others, on which a building will be erected for milling purposes and the manufacture of brush baskets.

In the case of Carroll against Spencer, the property on Fifth street advertised was sold for $1,352 to Mary A. Diller.

COMMON PLEAS.
In the case of Matthew and James Timmerman vs. David Timmerman, the Court decided in favor of the plaintiff, and defendant was ordered to make a deed to them for the real estate in controversy.

In the case of Isaac Barreclough vs. the village of Oxford, the application to file a petition in error was returned.

New Suit.—Amanda Jane Hagan has brought suit for defamation of character against Thos. Hagin; damages claimed, $10,000.

Gilbert Cox against Eliza P. Cox to recover a divorce, on the ground of adultery, custody of children also asked by plaintiff.

Adolph Seinke, a Trustee, against A. Herber and the Building and Saving Association of Middletown.

Catherine Lavin, mother of Deputy Sheriff Tim Lavin, died Saturday of cholera morbus. Her funeral takes place this morning at 9 o'clock, from St. Mary's Church.

Saturday the remains of Rev. Dr. Davidson were followed to the grave by a large concourse of sympathizing friends.

Perhaps Colonel May, the Hoosier architect, who helped build the Fourth Ward School-house, could enlighten the Citizens' Investigating Committee on some other dark points.

The stockholders of the Hamilton Street Railway Company held their first election meeting Saturday, at which the following Board of Directors were elected: James Roseman, Robert Harper, J. Curtis, L. Schagen, Samuel Beiler, Jacob Shaffer and M. C. McKee.

Henry Dilge says he did not charge the School Board $25.00 for blue grass seed, and Henry ought to know. Here is his bill as presented to the Board:

January 1, 1875.
Blue grass seed..... $30.00
Labor for putting it in..... 30.00
The stockholder..... 60.00

The Republican Senatorial Convention meets in Middletown Wednesday.

NICHOLASVILLE, KY.—J. M. Patterson, Esq., has gone with his fine mare, Gumball, to the Buffalo, N. Y., races.

The Stars and the Star Juniors play to-day.

A keg of beer was stolen from Geisbauer's brewery yesterday by five unknown young men. No arrests.

At St. Mary's Cathedral, yesterday, Mozart's Twelfth Mass was sung in excellent style by the choir. The soprano of Miss Kate Schunde and the first bass of Mr. Sudbeck, as also the singing of Mr. O'Connell, were especially notable.

John Rees and John Ziegler indulged in an encounter at Selhor's saloon, on Pike and Craig streets, last night, about 12 o'clock, which will probably prove fatal to one of the parties, Mr. Rees.

At the time Mr. Rees and another friend, Mr. J. Bauer, were drinking a glass of beer at the above saloon, preparatory to separating, when John Ziegler confronted Rees with an insulting remark, which he followed up with a blow. Rees also attacked his antagonist, and with a good blow sent him to the ground, but the latter immediately arose and plunged a murderous-looking knife into Ziegler's abdomen. The wound is on the left side, and was dressed by Dr. Blau. Ziegler was subsequently arrested.

The cases of Dr. DeGruyter, Henry Hallam and Orrin Hallam were called before Judge Athey this morning. Mr. Blakely appeared as the attorney for Dr. DeGruyter, and Judge Cleary for Hallam. After the testimony had all been heard the case was elaborately argued by the attorneys. It was then submitted to the Court, after some consideration, the Judge fined Henry Hallam $1 and costs for applying his cane to the cranium of Dr. DeGruyter. Orrin, for punching the doctor, was fined $5. Last came Dr. DeGruyter, who was fined 50 cents and costs. So ends the last act of the DeGruyter-Hallam theatrical display.

Dr. DeGruyter created such a sensation for the past few days.

Mr. F. M. Calkins, editor of the Ticket, returned home this morning.

The firemen were outflooding the filthy gutters on Scott street this morning.

About twelve o'clock last night an encounter took place between John Rees, a barber, and another young man named Ziegler. The parties met in front of Selhor's saloon on Pike street, near Craig. Ziegler began to insult Rees, Rees answering back. One word brought on another, when Ziegler struck Rees a blow, which knocked him under the horse trough.

When Rees arose he started to go away, but was seized by Ziegler, who plunged a knife into him, causing a horrible wound in his abdomen. Rees was taken care of and Ziegler was arrested. His case was this morning continued till to-morrow, his bail being fixed at $1,000. Rees is in a precarious condition.

Next Saturday being, among the colored people, a day of rest, the National Tube Works will take a number of colored excursionists from Mayville to New Richmond.

Owner steamers will take parties from here up and down the river to the picnic grounds.

Captain James W. Batchelor, late of the steamer Mollie Ebert, is now in business at Pittsburgh, representing the National Tube Works Company of Boston, Mass.

The Duck is loading at Pittsburgh for St. Louis.

Business along the landing looked somewhat better this morning, but it is still exceedingly dull.

Captain Alex. Frazier, pilot of the Jno. L. Rhoads, reports meeting this morning about midnight sixteen empty barges, drifting down stream at the mouth of Laubrey creek, near Rising Sun. Later information received, says the barges broke loose from their moorings at Porter's Landing, near Gaff's distillery, during the heavy gale last evening. We could not ascertain to whom they belong.

There were altogether twenty barges that broke loose Sunday night from Porter's Landing, instead of six, as was reported on Monday. As near as we can ascertain at this writing, 1 P. M., the owners of the barges are Messrs. Joseph Keeling, Neel and Oliver and Joe Walton. We regret that some of the barges were loaded is erroneous.

John F. Keeling, Esq., the well-known coal and flatboat dealer, sold two flatboats to the Cincinnati Boat Company for the purpose of pontooning the Little Miami river at Union bridge. This company has contracted to put up an iron bridge at that point.
